GOSFORD, NEW SOUTH WALES— A 19-year-old equestrian is accepting that her life of Instagram modeling and horseback riding is likely over after caving to pressure and coercion.

Ms. Cienna Knowles received her second Pfizer mRNA injection on October 21, according to her Instagram account. Her entire existence flipped upside down later that evening. Ms. Knowles said she woke up with myriad adverse effects, including heart palpitations, muscle aches, headache, vomiting and blurred vision. She knew “something was seriously wrong” with her that night.

She went to the emergency room the next morning. Doctors discovered blood clots in her legs, stomach and lungs. Doctors also discovered internal bleeding. Rebecca Donnelly, Cienna’s mother, posted an updated three days later via Queensland Senator Gerard Rennick. The latter is one of the very few Australian politicians who tells truth about the injections.

Ms. Donnelly said Cienna was diagnosed with portal vein thrombosis (PVT) – blood clots in the portal vein. The portal vein “is the main vessel of the portal venous system (PVS), which drains the blood from the gastrointestinal tract, gallbladder, pancreas, and spleen to the liver.”

Doctors admitted the obvious – that the blood clots were caused by the Pfizer injections.

“No jab, no job” ultimatum

Ms. Knowles posted another update on TikTok from the hospital. She was scared to get the shots and held off for as long as she could. “But I toughed it out and did what was right to do,” she said. Ms. Knowles reported chest pains due to the blood clots in her lungs and other adverse effects that she’s keeping private because she’s “struggling to come to terms with them.” Doctors told Ms. Knowles that she is the first person from Australia to develop blood clots after the Pfizer injections.

Ms. Knowles is on several medications, including blood thinners, to mitigate the symptoms. Doctors told her that the symptoms are likely to persist for 6 to 12 months. But Ms. Knowles said in both her TikTok video and Instagram post that this is likely her “new normal.” She’s already reminiscing about her former life from just two weeks ago.

cienna.knowles I don't even know where to begin. On Thursday 21st at 10am I had my 2nd 🌟 shot. That night I woke up so sick- vomiting, fever, wet in sweat, heart palpitations, headache, sore muscles & joints like hell, blurry vision. I was in so much pain at this point crying I knew something was seriously wrong I'm the first person to dust it off and never cry. The next morning I went to the doctors who then sent me to the emergency hospital. I have been in the respiratory ward with clots all through my legs, stomach and through both lungs. The amount of clots on my lungs is equivalent to having broken ribs so a little painful & hard to breathe. As part of my treatment for my recovery I am now medicated & never have been in my life as a result of these I have internal bleeding & nose bleeds as one of the side effects of my medications along with a line of other things I choose to keep private. I had no medical issues, underlying conditions, not medicated for anything. Completely healthy. Never been sick. Crazy to think to the left pick I was turfing with my family riding horses and the next pick is me just after my vaccination. I now have numerous doctors & specialists for a minimum of 6-12 months this is my new normal. I have also been informed to not ride my horses, my motorbikes, & train- everything I am. Drive my car and go to work. I never wanted this jab & held off for as long as I could. I got it to keep my job. If you know me personally you know how hesitant & scared I was of getting it.

Thank you everyone for the love & support. ❤️

A few days later, she posted another update seeking people to take care of her horses. Ms. Knowles also conceded that she's "at super high risk of brain bleeds," essentially admitting that she could die at any moment.

cienna.knowles Here's some videos just prior to my injury of me riding my gorgeous 3 horses. (First pic is eric) my show horse that I'm going to work so hard to get back on him. The (second clip is Rip) my 3yr old quarter horse that I have been training- he's such a dude and so quite and gentle, if anyone knows of someone willing to take him on whilst I can't ride any cow horse training people? (3rd clip is Cow horse johnny) who is just a doll.

My Best friend @gracie.brown12 who is a Jockey from Tamworth is looking after and working all of them at the moment... (her and I in the last pic riding together only a few weeks ago) I'm struggling to catch my breath to walk to the fence to see my horses.

I'm unable to ride and at super high risk of brain bleeds whilst taking blood thinners to stop more clots.

Thank you all so much for your support ❤️❤️. I'm home! Keeping positive

Her last update is from November 5. Ms. Knowles frequently posted swimsuit, gym and modeling photos, complete with a huge smile, prior to Pfizer. She barely looks like herself in the most recent picture. We'll update in due course.
